

SEMH Specialist Resource Base

Manor Field

Infant and Nursery School

We are an SEMH Specialist Resource Base supporting schools in South Norfolk and Norwich, working with a maximum of eight children aged 5-7. We work together with other bases around the county. Children with challenging behaviour are referred to us and if offered a placement can be here for up to four terms. Cohorts of children are carefully chosen to provide positive learning experiences and appropriate support for their SEMH needs. Wednesday is a transition day, where children attend their homeschool to keep a connection with friends and teaching staff. The SRB Team supports school through visits, review meetings and working with home school TAs who spend time with us in the Base.

The SRB team are:

- Claire Ashman, Lead Teacher
- Kirsty Snowden. Higher Level Teaching assistant
- Carolyn Lawley, Jodie Allison, Lorraine Cason, Teaching Assistants
- Caroline Alexander, Family Support Advisor
- Paul Bradford, Base Adviser
- Dr Rowan Kendall Jones, Educational Psychologist

The activities and support that we use are evidence-based and tailored to help your child regulate their feelings, emotions and support them with their learning.

This includes:

- Personalised academic learning opportunities.
- Sessions around sensory processing, social skills and emotional understanding
- Regular therapeutic sessions; Attention Autism (Box time), ELSA/Special Time and Thrive sessions

There will also be:

- A daily report with regular updates
- Regular discussions with the Centre staff
- Review meetings with home school and parents/carers to discuss progress
- Termly reports
- Plans to support reintegration to mainstream or alternative pathway depending on individual needs

Please contact us if you have any questions!
